

VAGABOND

What distinguishes the Vagabond table from others is its diversity. The castors make it easy to move and it can for instance be used as a meeting table and a desk. It can also be a dining table in a canteen or in a restaurant. The table ends act as notice boards and the accompanying magnets may be used to hang pictures, messages or sketches directly onto the frame. There is also a rod at the top that can be used to hang lights, plants or other interior fittings on.
