PAX

Pax is a comfortable and sleek easy chair. It has been designed with the word "footprint" in mind, with the surface having been made as small as possible in plan view. Its design plays with a three-dimensional line that runs from the back of the chair to the armrest and on to the seat. In between, a curved area is created which constitutes the easy chair's shell. Pax fits in many different environments, for example, hotel rooms and meeting rooms.
